DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-93 and 97-104, drawn to a method of creating a nucleic acid terminated at a selected base, classified in class 435, subclass 91.2.
- II. Claim 94, drawn to a method of sequencing a telomeric region, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
- III. Claims 95 and 96, drawn to a method of determining the length of a telomeric overhang, classified in class 435, subclass 6.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I-III are unrelated to each other. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the Invention I is drawn to a different method employing different steps to achieve different outcomes.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Additional Species Requirement for Group I

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

- A) A method of sequencing (claims 52, 75-77, and 86-89)
- B) A method of mapping a nucleic acid sequence (claims 53-55 and 92)
- C) A method of identifying a dinucleotide sequence (claims 64-68, 90, and 93)
- D) A method of identifying a trinucleotide sequence (claims 71-73 and 91)
- E) A method of determining a position of dinucleotide by ligating nucleic acid segments (claims 99, 101, and 103)
- F) A method of determining a position of trinucleotide by ligating nucleic acid segments (claims 100, 102, and 104).

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-51, 56-63, 69-70, 74, 78-85, and 94-98 are generic.

Applicants is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitation of an allowed generic claim as provide by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, application must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 1637

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Additional Species Requirement for Group I

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: there are multiple species in the method of creating the nucleic acid template.

- A) specific nuclease (claims 3-5, and 7-11)
- B) chemical cleavage composition (claims 6, 12, and 13)
- C) random nuclease (claims 15-24)
- D) random cleavage composition (claims 25-29)
- E) gamma radiation (claim 30)
- F) mechanical breaking process (claims 31-34)
- G) freezing/thawing (claim 35)

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1, 2, 14, 36-93 and 97-104 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
